RICH SOIL DESOLATED

Memphis, Tenn., April 24.—(AP)— Scene of death and desolation was present today over more than nine hundred square miles of the richest lands in Mississippi and Arkansas as waters of half a dozen mighty rivers continued their relentless flow to sea.
Hour by hour more thousands were left homeless, additional crops were washed, and live stock, homes, barns

and property of almost every description were swept away.

Far across country in Lafayette county, Arkansas, others were moving out to high lands before the waters of the Red river, which broke through the main levee at Findlay Bend early in the day, with the prospect that an additional 20,000 acres of land would be inundated.

Another break in the levee of the Arkansas river above Pine Bluff, Ark., was reported by army engineers. The overflow was expected to damage Deane and Chicot counties in Arkansas, and several parishes in Louisiana.

Refugees on Every Ferry. Southward, in Louisiana, many persons were being driven from their homes in Concordia parish, and every ferry entering Natchez from Vidalia, La., carried refugees.

With 100,000 new homeless, the task of caring for the refugees was becoming a stupendous one. The immediate work was that of moving the refugees from the temporary camps to safer ones in the highlands, and for the work thirty-two big steamers have been engaged.

Disease continues to spread in the old concentration camps, and was beginning to make its appearance in the new ones in some parts of the Mississippi.

Crevasse is Widening. Below New Orleans, yesterday the crevasse in the Mississippi river caused a levee breach, and the water was being driven from the levee by a serious break, but water seeping through where the breach lay in the hole in an effort to block it was beginning to flood the marshlands near Diamond.

As indicative of the tremendous pressure on the levee, army engineers estimated that water was rushing past Memphis at the rate of two million cubic feet a second, while at a point just below where the Arkansas empties into the Father of Waters the estimated rate was three million cubic feet a second.

Flood waters from the Arkansas river were moving into the Mississippi at what army engineers estimated to be a rate of eleven miles a day. This flow is expected to continue until the flood is absorbed by the Ouachita and Red rivers and carried by them back into the Mississippi again.

15,000 Without Food. Vicksburg, Miss., April 24.—(AP)—With fifteen thousand people marooned without food or water in the Mississippi delta district by the Mississippi flood, Adj. Gen. Green issued an appeal today to the country for boats and more boats to take them out.

"Small boats and motor boats from the people of the country must be furnished in this area if human lives are to be saved," said the statement issued after Gen. Green had conferred here with Gen. Murphy and Lieut. Col. Charles H. Dandridge, aviation officer of the fourth corps area.

More than 5,000 refugees from Greenville and other points now are concentrated in Vicksburg.

Make $500,000 in Three Hours. [Chicago Tribune Press Service.] Washington, D. C., April 24.—[Special.]—Announcement was made here tonight that George E. Scott of Chicago, vice president of the American Red Cross, had secured $500,000 for the Red Cross in three hours after the appeal for funds was made. Many chapters reported hope to exceed the quotas assigned them and the Chicago chapter voluntarily increased its quota from $450,000 to $750,000.

Henry M. Baker, director of the Red Cross relief in the entire flooded area, telegraphed that temporary general relief headquarters have been established in the Memphis, Tenn., Chamber of Commerce building.

Many Will Exceed Quotas. First reports received at the national headquarters from chapters throughout the country indicated that more than $500,000 of the $5,000,000 flood relief fund had been contributed within three hours after the appeal for funds was made. Many chapters reported hope to exceed the quotas assigned them and the Chicago chapter voluntarily increased its quota from $450,000 to $750,000.

NEWSPAPER MEN MEET THIS WEEK IN TRIO OF N. Y. CONVENTIONS

New York, April 24.—(AP)—Newspaper publishers began to arrive tonight to attend the journalistic conventions to be held here this week.

President Coolidge is to address the twentieth annual dinner of the United Press associations at the Hotel Billmore tomorrow night.

Henry J. Allen, former governor of Kansas, and Frank B. Noyes, of the Washington Star, president of the Associated Press, will speak at the annual luncheon of the Associated Press tomorrow.

More than 300 delegates are expected at the forty-first annual convention of the North American Newspaper Publishers' convention in the Hotel Waldorf tomorrow. Elimination of waste in the newspaper industry will be the chief topic before the publishers with further action regarding postal rates and the relation of radio to newspapers an additional subject.

ARMOUR & CO. SENDS $1,000 TO FLOOD VICTIMS

Despite the Sunday lull in relief activities for alleviating the distress of flood sufferers, Chicago continued yesterday its efforts to assist the stricken.

The outstanding contribution of the day consisted of a check for $1,000 from Armour & Co., which was mailed to the Chicago chapter of the Red Cross by A. W. Armour, vice president of the firm. In a letter, Mr. Armour said:

"With the flooded Mississippi river driving thousands of people from their homes, we know without being told that the American Red Cross will be busy with relief measures. Some of the refugees are our friends and business associates; all of the refugees are deserving of aid.

We are handing the American Red Cross the attached check for $1,000, with confidence that in no other way could we be of greater service."

$1,000 from Aurora Chapter. A check for $1,000 was forwarded to St. Louis by the Aurora chapter of the Red Cross yesterday to add to the fund for the relief of sufferers. The money was turned over by the Aurora Community chest, with the promise that more will be forthcoming if needed.

Chicagoans demonstrated their spirit of helpfulness in answering the appeal of the Salvation Army for garments to be shipped to the flood areas for the destitute hundreds arriving both on foot and in automobiles at the warehouse of the army at 1325 West Congress street and 6200 Westworth avenue.

Every type of vehicle could be seen in the almost unbroken stream that stopped at the doors, bundles of clothing, both large and small, being delivered from Ford or Rolle-Royce.

Two Cars Dispatched. Early yesterday morning a baggage car had been half filled with such contributions and was sent on its way and by afternoon another baggage car, completely filled, was ready to be shipped. Maj. J. L. Styrum and Capt. K. L. Hix, who have been in charge of a band of workers at these stations since late Saturday night, said the clothing was being sent to F. F. May, general superintendent of the Y. M. C. A. railroad, at Memphis, and distributed from there.

G. Herb Pallen, advertising man of Los Angeles, called at the Tribune office with $108.25 in cash which he had collected aboard the Overland Limited from the coast, reaching Chicago yesterday morning.

NEW BANDITRY, PREYING ON VICE, IMPERILS RICH

Police Fear Wealthy Men May Be Next Victims.

Spurred on by reports that a number of wealthy Chicagoans have been marked as victims by a gang of kidnapers, extortionists, and stickup men, who have so far confined their activities to rich gamblers, police last night took steps to frustrate the plotters.

A new type of criminal has come forward, according to Chief of Police Michael Hughes and other high police officials. He is known in the underworld as a "muscle-man." The term is applied to the bands of criminals who have taken up kidnapping, extortion, and robbery of persons engaged in some illicit business as a means of getting large and speedy profits.

"Racket" has gained much favor, it was said, because the victims so far selected never have appealed to the police.

Spurred On by Profits. But recent operations of the "muscle-men" have been so lucrative that they now are considering the victimizing of respectable merchants and business men who have been victims in the past.

Four men, all armed with shotguns, are said to have walked into the Plymouth Smoke shop, at 325 Plymouth court, lined up twenty-five patrons and escaped with a total of more than $10,000.

Hold Up Second Time. Several others, well armed, swept into the Bowen pool room, on the second and third floors at 2019 East 9th street, and held up all present for about $1,200, it was reported. This same place was the scene less than a week ago of a foray by seven men, one of whom carried a machine gun. The two men were released only after they had paid a ransom estimated at from $20,000 to $100,000.

Still another method of the gang members is to demand a percentage of the profits of a disorderly house or gambling place from the proprietor, police say.

One of the arrested men questioned the recent kidnapping of Jackie Adler and Sappho Lawro, owners of the Midway Frolics cafe, marks another phase of the "muscle-men's" activities. The two women were released only after they had paid a ransom estimated at from $20,000 to $100,000.

GIRL DYING, SEVEN OTHERS HURT AS AUTO IS DITCHED

Miss Mildred Dunlap, 17, of 7445 Greenview avenue, was probably fatally injured early yesterday morning when the automobile in which she and seven youthful companions were riding plunged into a ditch near Waukegan and Glenview roads, turned over twice, and crashed into a telephone pole.

The girl's back, left collar bone, and left leg were broken. Her companions, four young men and two girls, suffered only minor injuries. Arthur Jungwirth, 18, of 3514 Natchez avenue, was the driver of the car, which was rented from an agency.

One death yesterday raised the motor toll in Cook county since Jan. 1 to 262. Philip Kushenbach, 56, of 2006 South Paulina street, died of injuries suffered on April 12, when he was struck in Chicago by an automobile driven by Frank Adams, 2618 West 24th street.

Leo Sirois, 3554 South Halsted street, and his 2-year old son had a narrow escape when the car in which they were riding was struck at Garden Lane

by Capt. William Russell of the Hyde Park station was Rowland McKenna, 40, of 204 West 9th street, who was wounded after he is said to have vainly attempted to stick up patrons of a cigar store owned by Dave Emmett at 4717 Cottage Grove avenue. He was shot by Sgt. Arthur Katt, who saw him and a companion leaping into a parked car near the store.

McKenna is believed to be dying, but he refused to talk. Police arrested Clarence Campbell, 643 University avenue, and Mrs. Mabel Campbell, suspected members of McKenna's gang. A shot gun and a suit case full of shells were found in the home.

Loose Is Unusually Big. Rich profits have been collected by the "muscle-men" in these few robberies which have come unofficially to the attention of the police. On April 22, four bandits held up 20 men on the third floor of the Garrick building where a handbook was operated. They got $6,000. A few weeks ago, the gambling place of Ray Rahn, 3017 East 92d street, was held up by six bandits. One hundred men patrons handed over $20,000 to the robbers. Previous to that, fifty men in the place of Harry Marks, 1101 Argyle street, lost $10,000 to four armed men.

FIGHT PACIFISM WITH IRONSIDES, FOREMAN URGES

Full House for Benefit Film Is Planned.

Gen. Milton J. Foreman yesterday wrote the patriotic interest of the nation with a punch on the roster of those with weighty names who want Old Ironsides put back in fighting trim immediately and who are urging the glory cruise of the old frigate around the Great Lakes.

The punch was packed in the general promise of a check for $100,000 to the fund for the restoration of the frigate, and some remarks about what the inland cruise of the frigate will do for the patriotism of the nation.

"Will Stimulate Patriotism."

"I don't know of anything that will stimulate the patriotic interest of the nation so much as bringing Old Ironsides here," he said. "It will be the finest anti-toxin in the world for the tendency towards being ashamed of national Americanism."

"Nations live on their tradition and when a nation is possessed of as fine a patriotic tradition as Old Ironsides represents it would be the worst sort of profligacy if we didn't take advantage of the opportunity now given us."

"It's a bully thing," Gen. Foreman added with enthusiasm. "It is one of the finest stimulants of wholesome patriotism that's been promoted in this country within my recollection."

Having to match or better the $100,000 donation to the fund for the restoration of the Constitution, the managers of the Old Ironsides picture showing at the Auditorium theater are planning for a full house the evening of May 3, when the profits will be turned over to the Tinseltown fund.

Volunteers to Aid Fund.

T. D. Bonnevillie and Bert McKennie, who have traveled with the picture throughout eastern cities and have helped in each place to boost the campaign, are planning to make the same thing, a symbol of the nation's memories. Only the best sentiments are to be mounted and the forgotten corners of the nation are to be jeweled to new life by their charm.

Platinum four ring solitaire mounting $75

While the picture "Old Ironsides" is shown staged by star performers, with plenty of bloop and plot and was "not" served as part of the nation-wide campaign in behalf of the historic ship, its promoters offer its timeliness in order to swell the fund of pennies, nickels, and dimes to launch again with its old strength the bearer of the "holy flag."

Mr. Bonnevillie issues this warning: "Old Ironsides" has been showing in packed houses. All of the 3,000 seats in the Auditorium theater are reserved. The rush for seats for the benefit performance on May 3 will begin today, so it is best to make your reservations early this week."

Others Aid Campaign.

A brief of the picture and a résumé of the ship's victorious career was prepared by Mr. Bonnevillie yesterday to give those who will attend the May 3 performance a taste of what they are going to see. He wrote:

"The Chinese war, with the rush of United States marines to the front, recalls that it was the famous frigate, Old Ironsides, that first carried our flag and marines to China in 1844, on a campaign boasting mission thirty-nine years after the Tripoli pirate war, in which the picture is based."

"Old Ironsides had won forty-two naval victories before sailing for China."

Secretary Promises Old Ironsides Will Visit Chicago

PRESBYTERIANS OF WEST START PENSION DRIVE

Presbyterian ministers in fourteen states from Illinois to California urged their congregations yesterday to co-operate in the campaign to raise $15,000,000 needed to establish the pension fund campaign for retired ministers on a sound basis. A total of $3,300,000 already has been subscribed by the western states. It was reported, and the remainder is expected to come from the middle and far west. The goal of the Chicago presbytery is $1,000,000.

The campaign committee is composed of laymen with Will H. Hays of Hollywood, Cal., as the general chairman and Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, as treasurer of the fund.

A dinner will be held this evening at the Hotel La Salle to lay plans for the drive which begins tomorrow.

"The pension fund is plain justice to the minister, common sense and sound business for the church," said Dr. John Timothy Stone in the Fourth Presbyterian church.

"An organization such as the Disabled American Veterans, composed entirely of men who bear the scars of battle and who are still suffering, and will continue to do so as a result of their patriotism and devotion to their country, are wholeheartedly interested in the restoring of Old Ironsides and in the fund now being collected by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE."

Old Ironsides Meeting.

"At this time, when pacifists and internationalists are attacking the very foundation of our government and all that Old Glory stands for, a great lesson in patriotism will be taught to all who view Old Ironsides and learn its history."

An announcement from R. G. Brush, secretary of the Hammond, Ind., chamber of commerce, is that a special Old Ironsides meeting of that organization will be held on Thursday. Howard P. Savage, national commander of the American Legion, is to be the principal speaker, and plans for the collection of funds will be worked out.

TEACHERS AT OSHKOSH NORMAL SCHOOL PLEAD FOR SACCO-VANZETTI

Oshkosh, Wis., April 24.—(AP)—A "full and fair" investigation of the actions of a Massachusetts court in the case of Sacco and Vanzetti, under sentence of death in that state, was asked of Gov. Fuller of Massachusetts by faculty members of the Wisconsin State Normal college of Oshkosh, it was learned today.

An appeal signed by 45 members of the faculty, including President H. Brown, urges the Massachusetts governor to name "an impartial investigating committee, whose recommendation, if favorable, would exonerate the men from any suspicion of this crime, with which, it is our belief, they had no connection."

LEAPS TO DEATH IN PACT; COMRADE FALTERS, FLEES

Girl Ends Life in Lake Off Society Pier.

Standing on the Calvary elevated platform in Evanston yesterday two young men enacted an apparent suicide pact drama in which one hurled himself to death under a train while the other lost his nerve and fled. A few hours earlier residents of the Admiral hotel saw a pretty nursemaid leap into the lake off the pier of the fashionable Saddle and Cycle club at Foster avenue, struggle for a moment and sink to her death. Police were unable to discover the cause of either suicide.

The victim of the apparent death pact was identified as Otto Fink, 23 years old, of 2020 Clifton avenue. His brother, William, who identified him, could give the police no reason for the suicide. Neither had William any information concerning who his brother's mysterious companion could have been. He is being sought.

Leaps to Death Under Train.

Otto Fink and the other man had leaped a fence and climbed the elevated embankment to the station platform, witnesses said. They were seen in earnest conversation at one end, near the edge of the platform. Then came the rumble of a train. The pair leaped out to watch its approach and when the first car was a few feet from them, Fink hurled himself on the track, while his companion hesitated, drew back and then fled down the elevated stairs.

The young woman who leaped into the lake was Miss Margaret Schermer, 23 years old, who in this country was working as a nursemaid because she did not speak English. In her home city, Munich, Germany, it was said, Miss Schermer had been a beauty technician.

Girl Leaves Note in Room.

For a year and a half she had been in the employ of John Sheridan, a real estate dealer, living at 386 Castlewood terrace. Mr. Sheridan identified her after he had found this note, written in German, in her room:

"I have aimed against a lot of people who meant well by me and I am a thankless creature. The biggest crime I am going to commit is on my self. Forgive me. I am unworthy to live. My last regards to father and mother and Kate and Junior Arthur."

"Margaret."

Miss Schermer's coat was found on the pier. When taken from the water her body was clad only in a silk waist, bloomers and flesh colored stockings.

BRITISH WILL ASK POWERS TO CUT WARSHIPS' SIZE

Want Washington Naval Treaty Renewed.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
LONDON, April 24.—The Times learns that when the three power naval conference convenes at Geneva on June 12, W. C. Bridgeman, first lord of the British admiralty, will submit a series of British proposals for the further limitation of naval armaments which will embrace a change of gun power on future warships, a revision to smaller cruisers, and a fixed tonnage for submarines.

The proposals will urge the reduction from 10,000 tons to 6,000 tons for capital ships—meaning a savings of $2,000,000 (about $10,000,000) in the cost of future battleships—and that cruisers not exceed 6,000 tons.

Would Limit Submarines.

With the desire to check the growing competition in destroyers and submarines, it is proposed to fix the min-

COOLIDGE, PERSHING, GOURAUD BIDDEN TO RAINBOW'S REUNION

Des Moines, Ia., April 24.—President Coolidge and Gen. John J. Pershing head the list of notables invited to attend the tenth annual reunion of the National Rainbow division veterans here July 14 to 16. Gen. Henri Gouraud, commander of the French army under which the Rainbow division served in 1918, has also been invited.

Immun roughly at 1,000 tons for each craft. These vessels are not subject to restrictions at present, resulting in so-called destroyers of nearly 3,000 tons and huge submarines of equal tonnage. Most of these undersea craft are being built in France.

Mr. Bridgeman will advocate a renewal of the Washington treaty for a long term. The consent of America and Japan is assured in advance, but it is anticipated that a reduction in the size of ships will be resisted by the United States. Japan is sympathetic to the proposal.

May Ask Ban on "Subs."

Great Britain may reiterate its former proposal for the complete abolition of submarines, but more as a statement of principle, in the hope of gaining a point.

It is understood that Japan will state its case against the British and American naval bases at Singapore and Ha-

MOST AMERICAN DESTROYERS OUT OF DATE IN 1932

Italy's New Ones Outrun, Outshoot Any of U. S.'s.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—[Special.]—Comparison of the speed and armament of the recently completed Italian destroyer Crippi with that of the most modern of American destroyers reveals that the United States navy is slipping in the construction of this class of fighting ship.

While it is true that the United States has 276 destroyers, the largest number of any of the major naval powers, naval officers say most of them will be obsolete in a few years. They also call attention to the fact that while other nations are building new destroyers and destroyer leaders on a yearly program, this country has stopped building.

Life of Destroyer 12 Years.

Virtually all American destroyers are of wartime construction and will become obsolete at the same time. The life of a destroyer is placed at twelve years, and as the last of the American destroyers was commissioned in 1919, it is figured that unless a new building program is begun shortly the United States will have to face sudden heavy expenditures for destroyer construction in 1932 or find most of its destroyers inactive.

Study of the 276 destroyers, only 100 of which are in commission, discloses that the United States is lacking in super destroyers or leaders. This type of ship has a displacement of 2,000 tons with a heavier battery and higher speed than a destroyer, and better seagoing qualities.

Comparative naval records show Japan, England, and other naval powers now have or are building these super destroyers. Naval officers say this type of ship is essential if squadron commanders are to maintain efficient control of their forces.

Develops Greater Speed.

Comparison of the Crippi with the U. S. S. Pruitt, the newest American destroyer, discloses that the Italian destroyer develops greater speed and has a heavier battery. Displacement of the two ships is about the same.

The Crippi developed forty-four and seven-tenths miles an hour in speed trials. The best speed developed by the Pruitt during its tests was forty miles an hour.

The Crippi is armed with four 4.7 inch guns with a greater range and striking power than the four 4.4 inch guns with which the Pruitt is armed. The Crippi also has stronger anti-aircraft guns than the Pruitt. Of this class, the Crippi has two and the Pruitt one.

Has 12 Torpedo Tubes.

The American destroyer has twelve torpedo tubes in four triple mounts, two on each side. The Crippi has four Lombardi center line torpedo tubes. The displacement of the Crippi is 1,250 tons, and the displacement of the Pruitt is 1,215 tons.

The Crippi is fitted with Belluzo turbines, and during her trials developed 48,000 horsepower. The Pruitt is fitted with Parsons geared turbines and on trials developed 37,575 horsepower.

PLAN CONCERT FOR CHURCH BENEFIT.

A concert for the benefit of St. Rose of Lima church will be given Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in St. Brendan's auditorium, 67th and Elizabeth streets, according to Mrs. Rosetta V. Payton, chairman of the affair.

DEAD IN DETROIT $2,000,000 FIRE MOUNT TO NINE

Detroit, Mich., April 24.—The number of known dead as a result of the fire that yesterday destroyed the five story paint shop of the Briggs Manufacturing company, automobile body makers, stood at nine today, and earlier belief that some were killed outright was given substantiation when rescue squads recovered an unidentified body from the still smoldering ruins.

Six of the thirty seriously injured died in hospitals today. Two others succumbed within a few hours after being taken to the hospital. Revised estimates place the damage at $1,500,000 to $2,000,000.

Of the 23 others still in hospitals, several probably will die.

Only conjecture as to the cause of the two explosions that preceded the fire were available today.

the best fermented tea comes from India

LACK, fermented India Tea is without doubt the most stimulating and refreshing drink in the world. It's the fermentation that gives the kick! No tea that is not fermented can have the same wonderful stimulating properties as India Tea.

If you drink tea, be sure you drink India Tea or a blend containing India Tea. If you have not yet tasted tea, try a cup of India Tea. We know that one cup will convince you of its refreshing and stimulating qualities.

The people of Great Britain drink on the average 6 cups of India Tea or a blend containing India Tea a day in one cup of any other kind. They have been tea drinkers all their lives, and experience has taught them which is the best tea.

How to make a perfect cup of Tea

Use India Tea or a blend containing India Tea, and make it in the correct way. Use an earthenware teapot, previously warmed. Put into it one teaspoonful of India Tea for each person. Boil the water is poured into the teapot the moment it boils. Allow to stand for 5 minutes to infuse. Put a little milk or cream into each cup before serving the tea. It greatly improves the flavor. Then add sugar to taste. India Tea also makes the best Iced Tea.

Introduce your friends and your guests to Afternoon Tea. But be sure—in order to get the best results—to use

MURDER OF OAK PARK GIRL TO BROKEN TRUTH

Key Given Back to Fiance
Who Slew Her and Self.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
CHICAGO, April 23.—The first definite reason for the killing of Miss Marion Roberts of Oak Park, Ill., by her fiancé, Julian Meredith of Buffalo, N. Y., who ended his life later, was given to police to-day.

Friends of Miss Roberts identified the key found in Mr. Meredith's wallet with the bodies discovered in the automobile on a forest road near Vermilion as one Mr. Meredith gave her when they became engaged several years ago.

This brought the conclusion that the Roberts had broken her engagement and had handed back the ring which this might have brought on the tragedy. None could ascribe any reason for such an act by Miss Roberts.

A careful search of Mr. Meredith's pockets revealed no letter, nothing to explain why, deliciously happy as he was, he should take the life of his fiancée, back from America for only twenty-four hours, and then blow his own brains out.

While by side, under a United States army blanket, a souvenir of Mr. Meredith's war days, the pair lay today in a stable, adjoining the medieval Château de la Barre, while the spring rain fell outside. Nearby, in the barn of a crumbling stone castle, stands the car in which they were found, a short distance down the road—a tiny horse power affair which was purchased a week before Miss Roberts was due to return, to take her riding in the lovely valley of Chevreuse. Its cushions and running board are rusty with blood. The blanket covers all but the two bloodstained faces.

Remains from the surrounding hamlet pay 5 francs (about 20 cents) each as the gatekeeper to come and stare, murmuring at Miss Roberts' beauty and the wild look of the young man. They are convinced that he was insane, on the authority of an old judge of the nearby village of Senlisse, who sent him for speeding a few months ago.

Waited 2 Hours to Kill Self.

The doctors' examination showed that he killed himself a good two hours after he had fired the three bullets into the girl's head and body. After waiting alone in the spring night beside the dead body he finally got up the courage to end it all, the doctors say. The suggestion of a robbery attempt was discarded by police, who point out that 7,000 francs (about $280) and the $1,000 diamond solitaire still worn by Mr. Meredith's widow, an expensive bracelet, watch still was on Miss Roberts' wrist.

Mr. Meredith's family has instructed the American consulate to have both bodies embalmed and sent to America at their expense. The Roberts family has arranged for the daughter's remains to be taken to Oak Park.

That was behind the double shooting is a mystery to the Latin quarter. Mrs. Phyllis Baretto, Mr. Meredith's fiancée, has not yet returned from Oak Park. Friends doubt that she—a well-known woman—knows much of the tragedy. Mrs. Granger, at whose house Miss Roberts had lived, said Mr. Meredith was morose and violent.

PLAN OAK PARK BURIAL

The body of Miss Marion Roberts, 25 years old, pianist and composer, who was shot to death in Paris Saturday by her fiancé, will be brought back to her home in Oak Park for burial, it was learned yesterday. F. E. Roberts, 201 North Harvey avenue, Oak Park, the girl's father, cabled the French police to allow the body to be embalmed and then shipped back to this country. The Roberts family has heard no further word of the affair than the learned through newspaper dispatches, they said.

LANDING GEAR BREAKS AS PLANE RISES; 4 IN PERIL

Mineola, N. Y., April 23.—(AP)—Five thousand spectators, were horror-stricken when the landing gear of the Bellanca monoplane fell apart as it took off from Curtiss field this afternoon with two young girls as passengers.

Seven planes immediately followed and succeeded in signalling the Bellanca mechanic, but after an hour's effort to repair the broken strut, the plane was forced to land on Mitchell field, where it careened, smashed the left wing. No one was injured.

Clarence D. Chamberlin, who has an even chance with Bert Acosta of being the pilot to attempt to guide the plane to Paris in the near future, took up the plane on a test flight, accompanied by a mechanic and the two girls, Aloise, 9, and Grace Jones, 15. Aloise is the daughter of Charles A. Levine, head of the company owning the plane, and Grace is the daughter of Ralph Jones, president of the Brooklyn chamber of commerce.

The breaking of the landing gear was caused by the shearing off of a bolt which fastened the left side of the landing gear to the plane.

GIRL, 4, HIT BY ORIENTAL CAR

Battle Ground, 4 years old, 1815 Milwaukee avenue, was seriously injured when struck by a Rober street surface car yesterday. She had broken away from her sister Ruth, 8 years old, as they were walking in Rober street near Wabasha avenue and ran directly in the path of the car.

SNYDER MURDER TRIAL REACHES EVIDENCE TODAY

Woman Defendant Has Gown for Occasion.

New York, April 24.—(Special)—Becked in a new mourning outfit, and in a cold, dispassionate manner, Mrs. Ruth Snyder tomorrow will face the jury which is to decide whether she is to go to the electric chair or suffer lesser punishment for the murder of her husband, Albert Snyder, art editor of Motor Boating.

Facing the same jury, Henry Judd Gray, the dapper corset salesman, will answer to the same charge, but he is not expected to exhibit the high degree of self-control which has been the feature of the conduct of his paramour during her court appearance while the jurors were being selected.

Mrs. Snyder, with the jury complete and awaiting the opening statements and the first testimony tomorrow, has provided herself with a new outfit—dress, hat, etc.

A Departure in Gowns.

In her new costume she sticks to black, in respect to the husband which she and Gray are accused of murdering with chloroform, window sash, and picture wire, as he slept. She will present herself to the jury in raiment and manner somewhat different from the conventional "woman murderer." She is not the demure, sweet, pathetic figure which usually in the past in these environs and elsewhere throughout the United States has won sympathy and freedom from jurors. On the contrary, her black costume helps to accentuate her cold plastic features, her dominating character and her air of efficiency. Her "sex appeal" is not the ordinary variety, and her devices to influence the jury promise to set a new mark in criminal trials.

Co-defendant Rallying.

Gray has steadily gained in self-control. He has pulled out of a motionless semi-cataleptic attitude which he showed last week and he may appear tomorrow brisk and alert in demeanor, although lacking the self-confidence of his estranged married sweetheart—the matron for whom he slew the surplus husband.

Both defendants attended religious services today. Gray listened to a sermon in the Protestant chapel and received communion from the Protestant chapel. Mrs. Snyder, who hitherto has attended Protestant services, went to the Catholic chapel where services were conducted by the Rev. Father Patrick Murphy. Father Murphy has frequently sat near her in the courtroom and interviewed her in the jail, urging her to seek consolation in religion.

In her cell Mrs. Snyder read her mail. She had twelve letters. According to her lawyer these were all friendly. Judging by the letters "her public" consists chiefly, it was said, of serious minded persons who offer her advice and encouragement.

The question of Gray's defense has been a puzzle. Shortly after his arrest Samuel L. Miller, Gray's attorney, made the statement that Snyder had not been killed as he slept, but had jumped up and made a terrific fight for his life. Some theory of modified self-defense was forecast for Gray.

Mr. Miller also said that Gray was under a strange mental domination or hypnotism by Mrs. Snyder, and preparations were made for an insanity defense. The alienists, who were employed by the defense, however, both reported, after a searching examination, that Gray was quite sane. This apparently destroyed the insanity defense. The report of the city toxicologist, showing that Snyder was in advanced stages of intoxication when killed, was a heavy blow and modified the theory of self-defense.

President of Bolivia to Duel Lawyer for Slight

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LA PAZ, Bolivia, April 24.—A duel is scheduled to be fought early tomorrow morning between President Hernandez Siles and Dr. Carlos Calvo, foremost corporation lawyer of Bolivia. Dr. Calvo, during a birthday celebration this afternoon for a prominent local banker, is alleged to have slighted the president when the latter entered by turning his back on him. Although most duels here are a matter of form, it is feared that the present one may be serious.

Fireman William Hannon, 42 years old, 1409 West Adams street, engaged in helping fight a 4-11 blaze yesterday in Kromer's army store, 239 West Madison street, was severely cut on the right hand by a fire ax. He was taken to the Iroquois hospital.

Fire Commissioner Al Goodrich, who took office a week ago, appeared early on the scene. He is an ardent fire fan. After being soaked as he approached too close to a hose he donned a rubber coat and remained until the fire was out.

Spectators received a thrill when, with the fire almost out, a hose burst. Nearly 200 spectators were sprinkled with water as the hose writhed on the pavement.

Assistant Fire Marshal M. J. Corrigan estimated the loss to the four-story building and its contents at $50,000. Madison street car traffic was delayed for more than an hour.

THE WEDDING MARCH

The Wedding March is not always that dignified procession down the aisle to the altar! It is also the swift scurrying of relatives and friends to find a wedding gift that is unique and precious, yet not too costly. If you will direct your own private "wedding march" towards the Burley Shops, you'll find the answer to your search—a matchless collection of gifts at remarkable prices.

ARMADA OF SKY DOOMS NESTS OF MEXICAN REBELS

Will Bomb Villages of Jalisco; People Flee.

BY JOHN CORNIN.

(Chicago Tribune Free Service.)
GUADALAJARA, Jalisco, Mexico, April 24.—Following the deportation of eight archbishops and bishops and the execution of a Jalisco priest, captured while fighting with a force of rebels, the Mexican government today announced the rebels responsible for the train massacre last Tuesday near Ocotlan will be fought from the sky.

The entire upland district is receiving notice by special courier that the noncombatants must concentrate in fifteen designated places within ten days. After that date two full squadrons of airplanes will rain bombs upon the towns and villages of the whole rebel area.

The planes, which will operate from Yurecuaro as headquarters, will be provided with bombs, machine guns, and airplane cannons. Troops are also being concentrated for a grand sweep of the rebel territory. Minister of War Amaro and Gen. Ferreira, commander of the state troops, will command the movement.

Certain Towns Doomed

According to the warning given through the press and special circulars, all within the prohibited zone, after ten days, will run the danger of annihilation, when the doomed towns and villages are bombed. The airplanes will patrol the railway, and orders have been given them to treat as enemies all suspicious groups.

Daily reconnoitering into the rebel uplands is part of the military program. If the program is carried out the whole rebel territory of the state of Jalisco will be devastated. Under the guidance and protection of planes, the troops will advance through the rebel area, including about 500 miles of rugged mountains, burning the rebel villages and making the country uninhabitable.

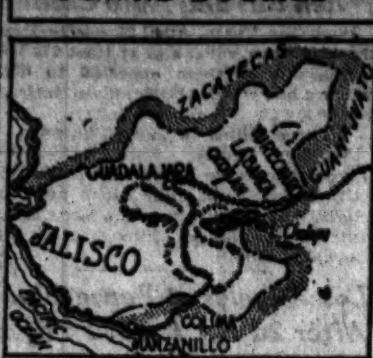

Indian women have begun coming into the towns of the lowlands and it is reported that hundreds more are preparing to leave the uplands. The same mode of procedure will be employed in Jalisco as was used in the last six months against the Yaquis. However, the army has a great advantage in Jalisco over that in Sonora, for it is much easier to the base of supplies, the mountains are lower and the Indians are less used to warfare than the Yaquis.

Archbishop Spirited Away.
It was reported here today that Archbishop Orozco y Jimenez of Guadalajara, who had been hidden in an interior village in the state of Jalisco, was spirited away to another state because a search was being made for him by secret service agents.

The former governor of Jalisco, Daniel Benitez, who was deposed by the legislature, quietly left the state building here last night, and the federal troops took possession without firing a shot. The new governor, Margarito Ramirez, immediately assumed office.

Official Report Bares Execution.
MEXICO CITY, April 24.—(AP)—Eight Mexican archbishops and bishops al-

TOWNS DOOMED

The Mexican government has warned all noncombatants in the mountain towns and villages of Jalisco to concentrate at fifteen points. Mexico has assembled squadrons of planes to bomb all towns and villages suspected of being rebel nests. A vast territory will be laid waste.

ready have been deported and one Catholic priest was executed in the government's latest campaign against Catholic organizations and individuals on the charge that they are seriously implicated in the revolutionary movement.

The latest deportees are Archbishop Pedro Vera Zurita of Tumbuco and Bishop José Manrique Zarate of Huajuatla, who were placed aboard a train bound for Laredo Friday night. The priest was executed at Rio del Cauto, state of Jalisco, an official report says, after having been captured there after an engagement against the government troops. Twelve of the revolutionists were killed in the fighting. Other Catholic priests, alleged to be involved in the rebellion, are being sought.

Episcopate Virtually Suppressed.
The government charges the Catholic episcopate and some Catholics priests and laymen are responsible for the rebellion, which it accuses the episcopate directed. To crush that movement the government virtually has suppressed the episcopate. The number and whereabouts of the Catholic priests still in Mexico are not generally known. The idea prevails, however, among those well-informed that the latest deportations leave only five Catholic priests in the country, one of whom is Archbishop Orozco y Jimenez, who has been in hiding for some time.

Mexico to Pay Foreign Interest.

MEXICO CITY, April 24.—By order of President Calles, the ministry of finance will include interest payments on the foreign debt in the budget for 1927. A limit of 250,000,000 pesos ($125,000,000) has been placed on the budget. The ministry of finance, which has been given practically dictatorial power, has been authorized to dispose of the national property, exclusive of church property, which may be suitable for commercial purposes.

"With the desire to fulfill strictly the promises of external character," reads the presidential order, "there will be included (in the budget) all obligations derived from understandings of Oct. 23, 1925, corresponding to the present year, as well as those that may have been pending payment from 1926."

Annals Former U. S. Envoy.

El Universal, a newspaper of Mexico City, tomorrow morning will carry an open letter to the Doubleday Page company, publishers of former Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson's reminiscences on Mexico. The letter was written by Robert H. Murray, former Mexico City correspondent, and takes issue with Mr. Wilson's version of the events of the ten days' tragedy of 1913 in Mexico City that resulted in the downfall of President Francisco I. Madero.

The letter directs attention to Mr. Wilson's acknowledgment, as shown in his dispatches to the state department, of possession of advances information from Gen. Victoriano Huerta concerning the latter's plan to depose and imprison President Madero. Mr. Murray caustically inquires why, if the then Ambassador Wilson apprehended no danger from Gen. Huerta, he cautioned Gen. Huerta to sacrifice no lives except by legal processes. Mr. Murray quotes from other dispatches sent by Mr. Wilson to show the latter appeared to have advance information on the plot to assassinate President Madero. Among other dispatches Mr. Murray mentions were three indicating Gen. Huerta had communicated his intentions to the American ambassador.

Wired U. S. Before Coup Occurred.

An hour and a half prior to the consummation of Gen. Huerta's coup, Ambassador Wilson, according to Mr. Murray, cabled the state department saying, "the supposition now is that the federal generals are in control of the situation and of the president."

On the afternoon of the same day, Mr. Murray also pointed out, Mr. Wilson advised the American consul at Vera Cruz that the troop guard at the national palace had been entrusted to Gen. Huerta's fellow conspirator, Gen. Aureliano Blanquet, adding, "this corresponds with the information sent me as to the probability of a coup today. I believe the end is in sight."

MARCONI TO WED A RELATIVE OF PAPAL NOBILITY

ROME, April 24.—(U.P.)—Senator Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of wireless telegraphy, is betrothed to Countess Marie Beatrice, famous beauty, who is related to the papal aristocracy. Formal announcement of the engagement is waiting an official announcement by the holy rota of his present marriage.

Mr. Marconi and his intended bride are seen together daily, although technically he is still married to another. He visits the house of the countess frequently and dines there occasionally. Friends of both the countess and the senator speak in the most glowing terms of the match.

Because of a long line of ancestors in the bride's family related to the papal nobility, it has been impossible to announce the engagement until the rota's decree is made public officially. It is understood that the wedding will occur shortly after the rota's decision is made public.

It has been learned in ecclesiastical circles that while the rota's verdict has been delayed due to formalities there is absolutely no doubt that the decision will be favorable to annulment of the present marriage on the grounds that there were mental reservations by both the bride and bridegroom when they were married.

RUSSIAN PRESS SUBSIDIZED, BUT PAYS NO PROFITS

Newspapers' Inefficiency
Hit by Soviet Chief.

BY DONALD DAY.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
RIGA, Latvia, April 24.—All newspapers in Russia are operating at a loss, according to Comissar Molotov, who, in his speech before a meeting of the soviet editors' congress, severely criticized the government subsidized press of Russia.

Despite the fact that the soviet government enables the press to exist as a monopoly, it is far from satisfactory, M. Molotov said. He alleged the newspapers have been unable to hold the attention of the people to the great problems facing the government and are lifeless, inaccurate, and unable to influence the population.

Calls Small Papers Best.
M. Molotov finds the newspapers to be too official. They discuss bureaucratic information in an uninteresting manner. The Moscow Pravda, and Ivestia both came in for a lacing. M. Molotov said the small provincial papers, published for the peasants, are better written and edited than the two largest papers in Russia. Comissar Molotov recommended that the editors be strong and merciless, saying self-criticism overcame many faults. The commissar's speech threw a wet blanket over the proceedings of the congress, whose members were gathered to demand increased subsidies.

McPHERSON TEMPLE 'SECESSIONISTS' HOLD THEIR FIRST SERVICE

Los Angeles, Cal., April 24.—(AP)—Alma Temple McPherson and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, were told to live up to the letter of their own four square gospel today by a group of 200 "secessionists" from the temple flock, who held their first services at Glendale.

"The new church we are founding today," G. N. Nichols, the leader, told the insurgent congregation, "must ever remain unaffiliated, and we will never permit it to be touched by scandal or innuendo, nor will we ever center our activities around one personality."

"We have only the kindest feeling for Sister McPherson and Mrs. Kennedy, and all connected with the temple, but if they will read again the declaration of faith on which the church of the four square gospel was founded, and adhere to it, they will strip themselves of their worldly ornamentation, and put on the sackcloth and ashes of real repentance."

from the government for the purchase of more modern equipment.

The Russian newspapers today are printed in confiscated plants, which have steadily decreased in efficiency since the revolution. Even the paper used is imported from Finland, Sweden, and Latvia. The largest daily, the Moscow Ivestia, consists of six pages which are a trifle larger than the pages of The Tribune. It claims to have more than 500,000 circulation.

GIVE PERSONNEL OF TAX ADVISORY GROUP EXPERTS

Washington, D. C., April 24.—(Special.)—Appointment of a group of tax experts as advisers to the joint congressional committee on internal revenue taxation was announced today by Representative William R. Green (Rep., Iowa), chairman of the joint committee.

The advisory group is composed of Thomas E. Adams, professor of economics at Yale university and former chief tax expert of the treasury; A. A.

Ballantine, New York City, former solicitor of the internal revenue bureau, and now a practicing attorney; Dr. Thomas W. Page, Washington director of the Institute of Economics and former chairman of the tariff commission, and George O. May of Price, Waterhouse & Co., New York accountants.

Charles D. Hamel, former chairman of the board of tax appeals and now counsel for the joint congressional committee, will act as chairman of the advisory group.

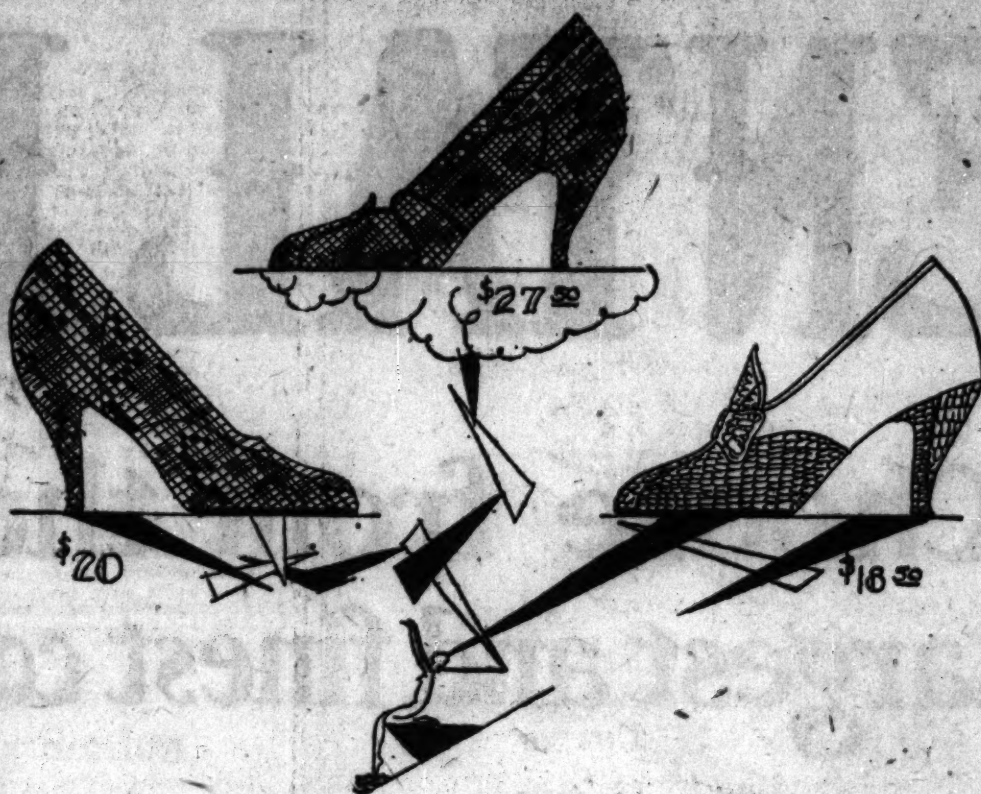

EPIDEMIOLOGICAL VICTIMS IDENTIFIED.
An unidentified man about 30 years old, who was taken to the county hospital last Saturday night suffering from epilepsy, died yesterday. The police have been notified and are trying to establish his identity.

Finds Jail Bars Sawed, but Prisoners Still In

Lockup Keeper John Hayes of the South Chicago police station yesterday discovered that the bars on the window of one of the cells had been sawed through and that only a slight push would open a way to freedom for the prisoners. Apparently the men who sawed the bars had been afraid to make the attempt to escape. Red Chris Strouk, burglar with a record dating back to 1886; John Hanley, Martin Kasnow, and Irving Kasnow, alleged thieves, were among those who occupied the cell during the last ten days.

MINISTER CHURCH FOE OF R

Stand on Court Bitterly As

BY THE REV. W.

The Federal Council of Christ in America, meeting yesterday from the Missouri synod, somewhat after the manner of the editorial committee, representatives two months. The criticism yesterday, Theodore Graebner, secretary, St. Louis, in the editorial committee, was witness, the official Evangelical Lutheran church, Ohio, and other resolutions could not develop a policy more devastating life of Christianity. The seven arch-episcopal church, four responded by the Federal churches. Prof. Graebner compared the council league, which the council "in un- strength of the church."

Protests Attitude
Graebner made a statement that the league of churches interested the body moral and spiritual. He also protested against advocacy of the inter- of justice. Dr. Graebner said the league court could justly be a support of the church, though it had individual churches.

Concerning pacifism, "The un-Christian attitude against the Federal Council of Christ in America, a chapter of its own. A Carolina conference of Episcopal church, four to a set of pacifism as a patriotic Christian for the triumph of Jesus Christ." It missed reference to patriotism but stated the Federal Council correctly.

MINISTER CALLS CHURCH COUNCIL FOE OF RELIGION

Stand on Court, Pacifism Bitterly Assailed.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.
The Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America received a warning yesterday from a high authority in the Missouri synod Lutheran church.

The criticism yesterday came from Theodore Graebner of Concordia University, St. Louis, Mo., a member of the editorial committee of the Lutheran Witness, the official organ of the Missouri synod.

The seven arch-foes sitting in the council could not devise among them a more devastating of the spiritual life of Christianity than the various forms of politico-social propaganda.

Protests Attitude of League.
Graebner made a vigorous protest against the Federal council's attitude on the league of nations.

He also protested against the council's attitude on the league of nations, which he called with the council "in undermining the strength of the church."

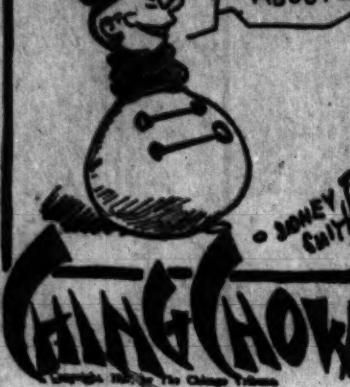

The un-Christian and almost treasonable agitation of the Federal council against military preparedness deserves the severest condemnation of its own. When the North Carolina conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, subscribed in 1919 to a set of pacifist resolutions, it was a patriotic Christian organization.

Charges it Aids Communism.

Even more sinister, in its immediate effect on national life is the Federal council's attitude on the question of capital and labor.

Only a week of two ago we had a spectacle, humiliating to every Christian, of a vice president of the Chicago building trades union objecting to the favor shown to radical groups in the labor movement.

"While the state will find means of protecting its interests against all this misdirected clerical activity, who will undo the harm already done to the cause of the Christian religion, of which the watchwords used to be faith, repentance, and the life in God?"

Recent Incidents Recalled.
"Ministers of the gospel permit themselves to be solicited by representatives of houses of ill fame in Milwaukee, enter, and then open the door to detectives. A reverend brother attends a hearing on a Sunday closing bill in congress. The meeting develops into a fist fight. The man of God is seen advancing on his opponent shouting, 'You dirty dog!' In Texas a minister brings his revolver into the sanctuary to defend the church's interest in politics and he uses it in killing a man."

AIMING AT THE CITY AND HITTING THE FARM.The proposal for a stiff state income tax seems to have its inspiration in our agrarian politics.And it will be about as helpful to the farming people of this state as some other remedies for their ills prescribed by the same doctors.If the Illinois farmer does not look beyond his nose the income tax will look good to him. It will seem a clever scheme for getting revenue out of the city folks with a minimum of contribution from the agriculturist. It is quite true that an income tax does not bear down on the farmer asit does on the wage earner or salaried worker.
The city worker pays his rent and also pays his income tax on that rent. He pays his grocery bill, his meat bill, his milk and butter and egg bill, and he also pays his income tax on those payments. The farmer has a long running start right there on the city worker when it comes to an income tax. Touched all along the line, the people who live and work in cities will find the cost of everything they need just so much higher.That may seem entirely justifiable to the political friends of the farmers and to the farmers whose interest they are supposed to represent would do well to look a little farther. In the metropolitan district of northern Illinois and the other cities of the state the Illinois farmer has his best market. The western farmer is thousands of miles from the sea and thousands more from his European market. The Tribunes has been trying for years to bring that market nearer to the western farmer in terms of cheap transportation, fighting for a waterway to the Gulf to give access to the markets of the Caribbean and South America, fighting for a waterway to the Atlantic. But neither has been won yet, and when they are both won the home market will still remain the western farmer's best market. It is a market at his hand, a market the conditions of which he knows, a market he can reach without great cost of transportation, and it means more to his prosperity in the long run than any and all other markets for it is a market which ought steadily to grow.But it is not going to grow if it is to be loaded with taxes and unfair exactions. As it happens, Illinois is far from being the only region where industry can establish itself, and as it happens, there are states that are awake and offering inducements to capital and enterprise. The chief of these inducements is fair taxation.If the politicians and their farming constituents will take the trouble to look over the situation at this time they will find that in spite of great advantages of situation and some essential conditions of success, business enterprise in this state is heavily handicapped. The Panama canal opened up an international commerce which has left the middle west out in the cold. An Illinois manufacturer sends his product to Oregon by way of Baltimore. Illinois industry is competing and is going to be compelled to compete more and more with the new south, where cheap power and cheap
labor and favorable tax laws are drawing capital and enterprise and are rapidly building up a magnificent picture of progress and prosperity. The south is nearer to the sea than we are and nearer to the great region of dense population. It is looking far ahead and shaping its policies to stimulate initiative and new enterprise. A vast program is already assured and it is going to affect every other region in the United States.We do not begrudge the south its success.
On the contrary, we applaud it, for it is the fruit of sound thought, of courage, and energy. But we say to the people of these midstates that it is something for them to think about. If enterprise is to be a mark for ever increasing exactions it is going to get out, and if it can't get out it is going to go down. We say, therefore, that the western farmer who thinks he is benefiting himself by giving taxes on the cities, by taxing his enterprise,
by taxing city workers, is killing his best market and his own best hope of progress and prosperity. There is but one clear road for the western farmer, and that is the development of his home market, the building up of western capital, resources, and enterprise.The friend of the farmer who flares for his vote by arousing his jealousy of the city dweller and teaching him that he can pull himself up by driving the city dweller down, the worst enemy the farmer could have. The farmer is not as prosperous as he might be or ought to be, but he isn't going to be more prosperous by striking down the prosperity of the city dweller. He is going to be less prosperous, not more.If the farmers of Illinois will see their common sense they will not help predatory politics to raise a great revenue to spend in politics for politics and by politics. That revenue may seem to some out of the cities, out of city dwellers and city enterprise, but if the farmer thinks he is going to escape his share he is blind. He will pay and pay heavily. He will not pay the tax collector, but he will pay in higher costs of what he cannot produce and lower profits for his production. He willpay in a restricted market and unnecessary transport charges.
The farmer's prosperity and progress is interdependent with the prosperity and progress of his market, his nearest market, his best market, in the long run. When he fights the industry and urban growth of the west he fights himself. When he piles burdens and fastens shackles upon them
he is piling a burden on himself and shackling his own strength.THE TRIBUNE has fought for the farmer, for his righteous demands, for his real prosperity. The Tribune believes that the prosperity of agriculture is essential to the enduring prosperity of the nation.
But as a better friend than the politicians who mislead him for their own political ends, THE Tribune warns the farmer that he is destroying his own chances of advance when he loads down
the industrial enterprise of the west with burdens
it ought not to carry in the fierce competition of America and the world. He is driving the blade into his own heart.

THE GREAT VALLEY.

THE TRIBUNE has received the following telegram from Natchez, Miss., dated April 21:
"Entire Natchez country rejoices in your editorial on the lesson of the Mississippi flood because of the new spirit of cooperation that it voices. The Mississippi river, from its sources in the far north,
through mighty industrial centers such as Chicago,
through the most fertile lands of the continent,
to the great port of New Orleans, constitutes the greatest waterway in the world. But it is now a pygmy compared to what it can become if all parts of this wonderful watershed would forget sectional difficulties and work together to this end. Flood control certainly looms as the most important task, and we welcome the dawn of a new era,
as is presaged by your editorial."

"NATURAL ASSOCIATION OF COMMERCE."

That is the voice of the great valley coming out of the flood. Emotionally and dramatically the flood waters are making clear the community of interests from the ports on the river and Gulf to the ports on the lakes. Here in the valley is a region which has not realized its extent and its various territories. The flood proves its geographical entirety and perception is just beginning to discover its economic ties.The water courses now doing such damage are lines of transportation which can be controlled, developed, and used for the advancement of the whole basin. THE TRIBUNE has suggested the midwest chamber of commerce as an organization which will bring to a core the common interests of the region. It will be a clearing house for ideas and activity, an expression of what the people have in common.Nature itself made these alliances in the great valley. They can be given opportunity to work together.

DAUGHTERS OF THE PAST.

Former Gov. Nellie Taylor Ross appeared before the continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution and Texas Gullman wasn't needed there to tell the delegates to give the little lady a hand. They gave her a big one, but a Daughter sent an unsigned note to the desk in protest.
It wasn't right, she thought, to honor a governor whose pardoning record was so bad. The president general, Mrs. Alfred J. Brownson, indignantly straightened the matter out. "That wasn't Gov. Nellie," she said. "The record belongs to another state."It was Mrs. Ferguson as governor of Texas the protesting delegate had in mind, but why should a Daughter be bothered with such a detail? Let some one a hundred and fifty years from now interest herself in it. These are the Daughters of the Revolution, and their job is in the past. The Daughter who had Nellie Ross mixed up with Miriam Ferguson could not have made a mistake about Betty Ross. It would have been serious if she had, and it was not at all serious for her to be confused as to present day Texas and present day Wyoming. For the Daughters neither state has any existence.Their work is the important one of making the forefathers live in the present. They mark roads, trails, graves, battlefields, and home sites. They find a revolutionary soldier's grave in a forgotten burying place and they give him a tablet and the careless public his name. The Ladies' Mount Vernon association saved the home of Washington when the government wouldn't. The women of Tennessee keep the home of Andrew Jackson as he knew it and its flower gardens are blooming now
by the tomb of the general and his Rachel.The government sells its old forts for factory sites or filling stations. Ticonderoga is still a gaudy guard at the neck of Lake George and Lake Champlain because the Pell family have preserved it.
The Daughters of the Revolution have plenty to do if they never find out even that there was a world, war.

Editorial of the Day

WHAT WILL CANADA DO?

[The Vancouver (B. C.) Sun.]

As Philosopher-Mercator, Edward A. Wilson points out, the United States is today producing one-third more than she consumes. From a surplus of one-seventh before the war, the excess production has grown to a magnitude that demands outlet in some foreign market.The first place the United States is going to look to dump some of that surplus production is Canada.
With 3,000 miles of practically unprotected border, gunless and nearly tariffless, this country offers a magnificent dumping ground for American goods.
What is Canada going to do? Is she going to see that one-third excess production should at Canadian consumers to the detriment of Canadian industry?
Is she going to wait until the strangulation of Canadian business demands some form of immediate relief?Or is Mackenzie King going to go out and demand some sort of a showdown now?
Let us Canadians face the issue. We have enough of our own stuff to take care of without being loaded with American surplus. And the problem is a problem of the immediate present.Americans find their own solution in raising the industrial efficiency of Europe. But that will take time. Meanwhile, the American surplus must be dumped somewhere. And most of it will be dumped in here to suffocate Canadian industry if we sit here
compacitly and let it topple in.
Canada has got to do business on a reciprocal basis
with the United States or fight her way to a commercial balance with prohibitive tariffs on American
manufactured goods and prohibitive embargoes on Canadian raw materials.When a big tree or a rock threatens a man's house he does not wait until it tumbles over on him. He takes measures to protect himself.
Canada has got to do business on a reciprocal basis
with the United States or fight her way to a commercial balance with prohibitive tariffs on American
manufactured goods and prohibitive embargoes on Canadian raw materials.It is the duty of the Mackenzie King government to find out definitely without delay whether the United States is going to trade with us reciprocally
or whether we will have to bar our American goods altogether.

UNDULANT FEVER.

A NEW form of fever is going around. It is called undulant fever. It is most common, though probably it is called Malta fever in parts of the world. It may be that the disease is not new, though we will all agree that the name is.In the old days, when malaria was almost universal, it is likely that cases
of undulant fever were called malaria,
and the sick were soured with quinine.
When a course of that remedy failed
to break the fever, somebody exclaimed:
"Gee, this is a tough case of ague!"
Then he sat on his hands and seethed till the job with calomel and quinine.In the old days, in regions where malaria was less of a trial, doubts cases of undulant fever were called typhoid fever. When it did not actually like typhoid the doctors were perplexed, but they did not know of anything else to do but to stick to the diagnosis. Now typhoid fever is becoming so infrequent that close study of individual cases is possible.When this is done some of the fevers are found to be cases of undulant fever.
Undulant fever first saw the light of day in the island of Malta. For years a peculiar fever had played havoc with the British garrison in Malta. Bruce went to work to find the reason why.
He found that the fever was due to a bacteria which was spread by goats' milk.
The fever was called Malta fever.
Meanwhile, in other parts of the world
it was found that contagious abortion
of cows was due to a certain bacillus.
Then it was found that practically all the raw milk sold in San Francisco contained the bacillus of contagious abortion.
This was especially true of the very expensive high grade milk.In 1918 an American woman, Alice Evans, found that the bacillus of contagious abortion in cows and that of Malta fever in human beings were either the same or else they were twins.
By 1924 we had found that there was a disease which we called undulant fever which was about the same disease as Malta fever, and that it was due to the bacillus of Malta fever. Since 1924
the fever has been found in practically every part of the United States.In Illinois, whenever a blood is sent to the state laboratory to be examined for typhoid, it is found to be negative for that disease, it is examined for undulant fever. In a series of 69 cases, five were found to be from cases of undulant fever. Two of these cases were found to have been infected by drinking raw milk.In causing the disease, drinking raw cow's milk ranks first. Next comes eating fresh pork; and other causes lumped together: milk third, and Dr. H.H. Smith thinks that some of the so-called typhoid, malaria, galloping consumption, and tularemia in Illinois are really undulant fever.Wiping out the infection is very an easy matter. The infection is the widespread in cows, and the veterinarians are at a loss as to how to control it in that field.WANTS "DON'T SPIT WEEK."
T. W. writes: Now that we have had a better speech week (which did not do much toward cleaning up the old town)
why not try a "Don't Spit Week"? Watch your mouth and don't spit on the sidewalks, nor on the elevated stairways, nor platforms, nor on the floors in street cars.I see a lot of this during my daily travels over the city.
Arrowsmith will tell you if you don't watch out.HIT ON HEAD WITH BRICK.
W. W. writes: Would there be an aftereffect from being hit on top of the head years ago? The infection is so what would it be and would there be a cure for it?I don't think there would be. Jacksonian epilepsy has been known to follow a fractured skull, but that is nothing more than an outside possibility.LEAFLET ON CONSTIPATION.
V. H. writes. 1. Do you have a leaflet on constipation?
2. What is the price?
3. Yes.
4. A self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Chicago, April 19.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I met a young woman six months ago and have been talking her into marriage ever since.
I have been waiting for her to get ready to marry me. About three months after I met her I presented her with a valuable diamond ring. I learned that she had been going out with other men, so I asked her to return the ring. She has ignored all such requests. Is there any legal action I can take to recover
the ring, to which I think, I am entitled?The rule is often stated that a gift "in contemplation of marriage" can be recovered
when the donee breaks the engagement. (28
C. J. 651.) Apparently the ambiguous question has been asked to avoid deciding the difficult question whether a condition will be implied from the mere fact of engagement. There is no broad language in the case, but we find no actual decision by American courts allowing recovery of personal gifts such as engagement rings, on the simple ground of engagement. Is there any enforcing return involve such additional facts
as an express condition, absence of good faith in the contract, lack of "delivery," or that the subject of the gift was actually given in the opinion that such an engagement gift as personal jewelry, if conditional at all, is conditioned only upon the present existence of the engagement in good faith as a status rather than upon future marriage as a consummation, so that they cannot be recovered merely upon showing subsequent breach of the engagement?

DECAY OF RUSSIAN VILLAGE

BY AARON COPMAN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, April 24.—Communism is spreading out into the most remote corners of Russia. "The Young Communist League, Komosmolny, has sent out its roots into distant villages and farms. I met this bolshevik version of the Y. M. C. A.
among the Turkmen; I met them in the Urals, and even among the Khirghis. If a boy or a girl joins this league, which is the case in about every tenth home, their farm work begins to lag. They begin to get busy with politics, meetings, propaganda spectacles, staying out late nights and getting up late mornings for work. Their parents lose control over them. If a father should punish his son or daughter for staying out all night on week days he is liable to be called to court and fined, and even jailed for a couple of weeks.At their meetings these young folks learn: That religion is a nuisance; that God is a creation of the priests; that churches ought to be converted into club rooms for many of them are. They also learn of free love; that a man's wife does not belong to him alone; that marriage is an unnecessary, foolish ceremony. Consequently fifteen and sixteen year old girls are the prey of this propaganda and, in many cases, too, its village organizers.I met a village party organizer in a village of the province of Cherepovets, a boy of twenty-two, who was still here from Leningrad. During the time in which he organized this village, which was about eighteen months, he ruined a number of girls. He left with three girls between the ages of fifteen and seventeen with his babies in their arms and had violated others.Of course, this rascal, according to the bolshevik law, could be sued for alimony, but not for immoral conduct. But none of the parents of the victims would trouble themselves with a lawsuit against him, for his kind are generally poor and a church
mouse and they do not believe in private property.
The girls themselves could not be persuaded to prosecute him. They were taught that "love is a free bird," and that you cannot compel a person to live with you if he does not love you any more.The school term in villages and in farming districts is a short one, not more than six months of the year. Not all children attend school. They haven't sufficient clothes, and in Russia, especially the north, the winters are severe. Schools are scarce and far from the children's homes. It is estimated that not more than fifty per cent are attending school. And this figure is that of the village school. In the schools of the cities, the teachers are poorly qualified, as most of the old-time teachers have been "amped out" as politically unreliable. The new teachers are either communists or sympathizers.The main subjects of teaching are: Political grammar (communism), a little bit of arithmetic,
reading communist political stories, and writing.
These are schools of the first category. In large villages one occasionally finds schools of the second category, which educate about the sixth grade of the American grammar school. From these schools they select every year about four or five pupils, who are sent to the "Rab Fak" (workers' faculty) at Moscow, Leningrad, and other big cities. These Rab Faks are supposed to be equal to the old Russian gymnasiums or an American high school.The pupils who are sent there are not selected on the basis of merit in studies, but by reason of their political views and understandings. Often village boys and girls of sixteen or seventeen years of age are sent without their parents' consent.
The pupils' own consent is considered sufficient.Medical aid in villages and farms is scarce. It is estimated that there is a village hospital in charge of a young surgeon, or a man nurse, in every twenty miles. But again these are bolshevik figures and not to be trusted. In the Urals, and other places you will not see them every sixty miles apart.Little medical or surgical aid can be received at these hospitals, as there is a scarcity of everything—of medicines, surgical preparations, etc.
When a peasant accidentally cuts his leg with a scythe or chops off a finger he ties up the wound with a dirty rag and keeps on working. This often leads to his death. In the northern districts, where the ground is frozen for hours in winter "rotting" their feet. There is much pneumonia in these districts.Social diseases are now hot uncleanliness in villages and on farms. I noticed an especially large percentage of this sort of illness in the provinces of Wologda, Perm, and in the Urals, where villages are 100 miles from railroad stations and towns. A peasant boy comes back infected from his army service in Moscow or Leningrad and spreads the disease among the village folk. I often noticed babies suffering from these inheri-table diseases.Religion is becoming decadent, even among the Russian peasants. Priests are conducting services at long intervals. Many of them, tens of thousands, in fact, have been jailed as counter-revolutionists, and

CATHOLIC, JEW, PROTESTANT TO TALK EDUCATIONFrank Debate Expected at Convention Here.

Political sparks are expected to be kindled when the Religious Education Association opens its twenty-fourth annual convention tomorrow at the Congress hotel.

Political questions, such as whether Gov. Al Smith, New York, a Catholic, could command the Protestant vote, probably will be discussed with speakers representing all faiths taking part.

On Wednesday the topic for discussion will be "The Limitations of Public Education as Seen by Churchmen." The Rev. James H. Ryan of the National Catholic Welfare conference, Washington, D. C., will state the view for his church. The Rev. Lynn Harold Hough of Detroit, former president of Northwestern university, will give the Protestant view, and Dr. Louis L. Mann, rabbi of Sinai congregation, will give the Jewish view.

Urged to Speak Frankly.

Every speaker has been urged to speak out frankly and fully and not to mince matters for fear of injuring one's sensibilities," said J. M. Armin, general secretary of the Religious Education Association, who left a professorship at the University of Chicago a year ago in order to take the post.

"We welcome modernists and fundamentalists in church and state with equal heartiness, but we expect every man to be willing to lay his theories before the membership and receive just as hard criticism as they care to give."

It will be noted in the program that what the churches call religious education the public schools call character education, and it is so because the law forbids the teaching of sectarian religious education in the schools, but does not and cannot forbid character building.

Association Organized Here.

The Religious Education Association was organized in Chicago in February, 1913, and still has its general offices here at 208 North Michigan avenue. It is now an international organization, and Sir Robert A. Falconer, president of the University of Toronto, Canada, is the international president. Sir Robert will give his presidential address tomorrow evening on the subject: "Functions of State and Church in Education."

This being vacation week in the public schools, many teachers have signed their intention to be present. On Thursday evening a banquet will be held. The convention will adjourn Friday afternoon.

YOUTH, CAUGHT WITH GUNS, ADMIT 50 STORE ROBBERIES.

Two youths, arrested Saturday night at Keddah avenue and Madison street, while they were carrying revolvers, yesterday admitted at the detective bureau that they had robbed more than fifty drug stores in the last few months. They are Daniel Maylan, 25 years old, and William Becker, 23 years old, both of 3235 Warren avenue. Their admissions were made to Chief of Detectives William O'Connor.

MAY

Like the caissons sinking 125 feet below ground—

THE "Cathedral of Commerce" thrusts its spire into the clouds. Voyagers coming in from the sea discern it with delight.

Far uptown, workers pause at windows to gaze southward; hurrying thousands on the Broadway pavement crane their necks to look up along the clean, sheer lines of it.

Only the rare, searching minds send their thoughts below ground to contemplate with equal amazement the base on which the structure rises.

Architecture is not simply the art of building well and usefully. It must comprehend beauty, interest, unity, mass and power.

But first, the foundation.

Thus with a magazine. Thus with Good Housekeeping.

The high flung spires of Good Housekeeping are its stories by great authors, its living illustrations, its rich colors, its entertainment and inspiration. Beneath, in the bed-rock, lies the foundation of practical service.

Good Housekeeping Institute, which guards your household economies—the Bureau of Foods, Sanitation and Health—the Studio of Interior Decorations and Furnishings—the Fashion Service of international scope—the Department of Child Training—the guaranty behind the hundreds of advertisements in the magazine—the countless ways in which Good Housekeeping has, for a quarter of a century, guided and made safer and happier the American Home.

These departments are a foundation on which a circulation may tower to whatever heights.

For more than a generation, Good Housekeeping has been the pioneer, the builder in these outstanding spheres of woman's interest. On these foundations a group of experts has reared, and will continue to rear, a magazine of preeminent service to the American woman.

Out of their accumulated experience, out of their ideals for conducting the American Home they have perfected a service to the American woman that is unique.

The departments of Good Housekeeping can themselves be duplicated. But one essential thing would still be lacking: The service that is born of experience, the ideals that are Good Housekeeping.

These are the result of evolution, the product of—Time.

These are the foundations of Good Housekeeping.

An Afterword to Advertisers

It is a high responsibility for the publisher to meet the requirements of Good Housekeeping readers. But it is also a high privilege to meet that responsibility—and there exists a rich opportunity for the advertiser who can share in that richest of all attributes which a magazine has to lend to the advertiser: Entrenched Good Will.

SALE of ORIENTAL RUGS

Economical householders! Today is your day to make savings of unusual magnitude on quality rugs. This is, we believe, the greatest of many great rug sales—both from the standpoint of variety of selection and amount of savings.

150 PERSIAN HAMADAN MOSOUL RUGS

$29.50 Heavy quality rugs in soft rich colorings. This lot includes both antique and modern pieces. They average about 3.2x5.6 to 3.6x6.6 feet in size. Many formerly sold at $50.
$32.50

First Quality PERSIAN LILAHANS

$35 to $95 Exquisite Persian rugs with long heavy pile and of a close weave. They have a beautiful silklike lustre. Oriental shades of rose, blue, mulberry and garnet are attractively combined in these rugs. These smaller size rugs add just that wanted touch of color to your rooms.
$45 to $135

Special Selling of Room Size Lilahans

$350 to $450 These rugs are of exceptionally fine weave and texture. They have a silklike sheen and are real Lilahans, being made in the Zagras mountains in Persia. Be sure to see this new importation.

EXTRA ROOM SIZE SAROUK RUGS

$650 to $1150 This group will be of special interest to the householder who has one of those large and hard-to-fit rooms. The "Sarouk" is the most beautiful rug imported from Persia and will stand the hardest wear without losing its beauty. The colors are rose, blue and mulberry.

CHINESE SCATTER RUGS

Of heavy, fine quality with a silklike sheen. Colors are rose, red, gold, blue, taupe and orchid.

Persian Zarquart Rugs

Only 200 to sell at $19.75 EACH

Of a fine weave and have a beautiful silklike lustre. The colors are rich and deep. Sizes about 2.6x4.6.

Chimayo Rugs

Hand woven. Only 250 to sell. Ideal for table, throw or floor use. Sizes 1.10x2.6. Each.

$3.75

Read the items listed here with care. Consider their unsurpassed quality and low price. This event is another proof of the way the Davis Store's unsurpassed buying power brings greatest possible saving to thrifty Chicago shoppers. Come in early.

ROOM SIZE HERESE AND GHOROVANS

$145 to $165 Closely woven Persian rugs in polished or natural finishes. Choice of small Persian or Medallion designs. Colors are rose, blue and tan. 8x11, 8.6x11.6 and 9.4x12.8 foot sizes.

150 Persian Caucasian Hall Runners

$37.50 to $57.50 This group is composed of those long but narrow Oriental rugs that are ideal for use as hall runners and stair rugs. There are a few genuine antiques included. The pile is long and silklike; colors are rich; patterns are attractive. Formerly sold as high as $85.
$47.50 to $67.50

Unusual Values—PERSIAN ARAK and MAHAL RUGS

$195 to $245 There are only 40 rugs in this lot. The weave is close, the pile long and the Persian designs very attractive. The colors are rose, blue, tan, mulberry and rust. All rugs in this lot have a silklike sheen.

Persian KEMERAGH, ISPAHAN and LILAHAN RUGS

$575 to $675 This group consists of rugs that average about 10x12, 10.4x13 and 10.6x14 feet in size. The patterns are very attractive. The colors are rich and deep.

HEAVY QUALITY GHORDIES RUGS

$85 to $95 Heavy durable Turkish rugs in red, blue and mulberry colors. About 8x11 to 9.6x13 sizes. Specially priced for this sale.

QUIT MEDDLING; GIVE CHINESE A CHANCE—GREEN

Labor Frowns on Ethics of Powers, Leader Says.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., April 24.—[Special.]—Immediate and voluntary withdrawal of all foreign powers from China, and the complete surrender of extraterritorial rights and other concessions, leaving China free to work out its own destiny, is urged by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, in an editorial which appears in the American Federationist.

There is no danger, Mr. Green asserts, that the revolutionary movement in China will result in the creation of a Soviet or communist government. The revolutionary movement, according to Mr. Green, is "the culmination of a growing desire on the part of the Chinese people for the enjoyment of self-government and the blessings of liberty and freedom," and the demand for a free China "has been accentuated by the action of certain foreign governments in demanding extraterritorial rights and special concessions in Chinese territory."

"The laboring people of the United States would be opposed to our government doing anything more in China than to extend the protection to American lives and property."

"The American labor movement believes that the Chinese people should be given the widest and fullest opportunity to establish a government of their own choosing and to exercise its sovereignty without interference from other nations. The great powers which have admittedly been encroaching upon Chinese territory should immediately withdraw from Chinese soil, give up every concession which they had gained through force or otherwise and thus leave China free to work out its own destiny."

"Such action would give recognition to the commonly accepted principle of self-determination of the people and the right of all nations, great and small, weak or powerful, to settle their own national, social, and political problems in their own way and in accordance with their own ideals."

FINDS TWO MEN AND WOMAN SHOT TO DEATH IN FLAT

St. Paul, Minn., April 24.—[AP.]—Two men and a woman were found shot to death early today at a flat near the downtown section. They were "Porky" Wyman, alias Flynn, former bartender; William McManus, a former bellboy; and a woman known as Josephine Brunell.

The bodies were discovered by a man who told police he had gone to the place to buy a drink of liquor. Wyman had three bullet wounds through the neck and McManus had been shot twice through the head. The Brunell woman had been shot twice. A postmortem examination revealed that three different kinds of guns had been used—a .38, a .45, and a shotgun.

hail from Nanking today say Gen. Chiang Kai-shek is morose and refuses to see even his own officers. They add he has not worn his uniform for the last week.

Looting in Nanking Continues.

Nanking, the foreigners report, is an armed camp, but despite the presence of the soldiers the looting of foreign property by Chinese gangs continues. The military situation in the Nanking region is quiet, following Chiang's bombardment of Pukow, across the Yangtze river, with an eight inch gun, which was taken to Nanking from the Wusong forts near Shanghai.

Batteries manned by White Russians under Gen. Chang Chung-chang, northern army leader, at Pukow have been silenced. An armored train has been destroyed. Chiang, however, is unable to dislodge the 3,000 White Russians entrenched at Pukow.

Ships going to Hankow from Shanghai are unable to dock at Nanking. The only way to reach the city therefore is by train. Newspaper men returning last night were forced to submit to indignities by the military. Soldiers delivered speeches denouncing the "imperialists." On reaching Shanghai they were forced to remain in the station all night, sleeping on the floor with the coolies.

Attack Soviet Adviser.

It is still impossible to determine with any degree of accuracy the final result of the Nationalistic split, since the members still are jockeying for positions and spreading propaganda attacking each other.

Nanking is placarded with posters denouncing the communists. Many contain caricatures of Michael Borodin, Russian Soviet adviser of the Cantonese, leading Chinese dogs with faces resembling the Hankow government.

Despite Gen. Chiang's claims that his government is functioning, evidence points to the fact that Nanking is filled only with hordes of office-seekers, many not even affiliated with the Kuomintang. Gen. Chiang's statement that the conservative Kuomintangists at Hankow were prevented by the communists from proceeding to Nanking to join his banner, was disputed by the Hankow faction, which declares that Gen. Chiang is trying to destroy the civilian government by the communist smoke cloud.

However, it is generally admitted that Gen. Chiang, regardless of his intentions, certainly is putting down the labor agitators and gunmen within his territories, although it was rumored tonight that Gen. Chiang's lieutenant, Gen. Li Chi-sun of Canton, has succeeded and declared his independence.

Chiang Seeks Big Loan.

Gen. Chiang, whose chief trouble is money to pay the large army in Nanking, today appointed K. P. Chen, a University of Pennsylvania graduate and manager of the Shanghai Commercial Savings Bank, chairman of the financial committee whose purpose it is to raise a loan of $20,000,000.

The Hankow faction imprisoned Gen. Liu Chi, resident agent of the Christian general, Feng Yu-hsiang, in retaliation for Gen. Feng's alleged alliance with Gen. Chiang. The Hankow faction also imprisoned Ho Teh-lin, former minister of finance at Peking, as a hostage against prominent communists.

who were arrested by Marshal Chang Tso-lin in the Soviet embassy raid.

See New Lineup in China.

The vernacular papers tonight report the Shantung general, Chang Kuei-yao, subordinate of Gen. Chang Chung-chang, has "deserted" to the south, owing to the pressure brought by Gen. Chiang, who threatened to confiscate Chang Kuei-yao's properties. The papers also say Marshal Sun Chuan-fang, former tuptan of Kiangsu and Chekiang, is dickering with Gen. Chiang, leading to the belief that Gen. Chiang is trying to effect alliances with the northern militarists against the Hankow faction on the basis of co-operation against the communists.

It was reported from Peking today that indications are for the early retirement of Wellington Koo from the government and the possibility of Marshal Chang Tso-lin becoming premier.

Rumors are also being circulated of the possible alliance of Gen. Chiang and Marshal Chang as a result of the Japanese machinations in order to prevent a disturbance of Japan's Manchurian interests.

Qualities of Service

The vast resources of modern science have been drawn upon to make the Illinois Central's electric suburban service the best that money and effort wisely expended can produce. The result is a service that commands admiration and invites patronage. These are some of its notable qualities:

- Trains are frequent, fast, on time, safe.
- The track is smooth and free of dust.
- Cars are comfortable, well lighted, well ventilated.
- Stations are in convenient locations.
- Train and station employees are courteous.
- Fares are moderate.

This service is now used by thousands traveling to and from the South Side. It will be improved and expanded as others come to use it.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

TELLS CHURCHES MINERS CAN MIND OWN TROUBLES

Lewis Sees No Stability
from Outside Aid.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 24.—(Special.)—John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers of America, in a letter to the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, tonight declared that the troubles in the bituminous coal industry can be settled only by the industry itself and that "the most unwise step of all" would be to turn the suspension of work by 150,000 bituminous coal miners over to any group of politicians or settlement.

at the recent Miami wage conference, which he designated as a basis for stabilizing the industry.

Various movements have been started; many attempts, governmental, public, and private, have been made to cure the ills of the industry," he wrote. "All these have failed because all of them were conceived, formulated, and carried out outside of the industry. There was nothing practical in any of them.

Can Rescue Selves.

"Surely there is sufficient knowledge, skill and wisdom among the thousands of coal operators and the hundreds of thousands of mine workers to work out a fair policy of stabilization that would rescue the industry from its present chaotic status. I had that thought in mind when I introduced into the recent wage conference at Miami, Fla., the following resolution:

"1. Resolved, that this conference recognize the inadequacy of wage reductions to effect commercial security and stability in the bituminous industry and agree that the contract to become effective April 1, 1927, will be for a period of two years and shall comprehend the above stated principle.

Stabilization Goal.

"2. Stabilization is of essential importance; it is, therefore, agreed that the present joint conference of operators and miners of the central competitive field shall continue during the life of the aforesaid agreement. The work and duties of this joint agency shall be:

"a. To strive for conditions in the industry which will give a proper return to capital invested therein and will protect and advance the living standards of employees.

"b. To take steps to lessen the prodigious number of fatalities and injuries.

"c. To promote a sales policy which will destroy the present practice of selling coal below cost of production.

Attacks Freight Rates.

"d. To work for a scientific readjustment of coal freight rates and the elimination of the many discriminatory and prejudicial rates now maintained by the interstate commerce commission for the harassment of the unionized industry.

"e. To protect the industry by opposing adverse legislation and to encourage the enactment of legislation of value to the industry and helpful in the saving of human life.

"f. To employ such legal, financial, rate experts, engineers and advisors as may be required for the competent execution of this program, the expense to be borne equally by the operators and the miners.

"But the operators ignored the proposal. They declined even to talk about anything except a wage reduction. Apparently they were obsessed with the idea that the miners alone, through reduced wages, must be compelled to bear the entire burden of competition with nonunion mines of West Virginia and Kentucky, where starvation wages are paid.

"In some nonunion mines of West Virginia and Kentucky men are working today for as little as $2 and $2.25 a day, and in some instances the men are 'urged' to the mines in the mornings by mine guards armed with guns and blackjacks. The 'continuously competitive wage scale' that was proposed by the operators would have compelled the union miner to reduce himself to that level.

"The miners are convinced that the salvation of the coal industry does not lie in low wages. There are many, many other leaks that could and should be stopped.

"Our Miami resolution is still alive. It can be taken up at any time that the operators are willing to give it consideration."

MONOXIDE GAS DEATHS CALLED HIDDEN SUICIDE

Madison, Wis., April 24.—(Special.)—Claiming that the majority of deaths by carbon monoxide gas are self-inflicted, the Wisconsin division of the Travelers' Protective association, in an annual convention here, passed a resolution recommending nonpayment of money to beneficiaries of such a decedent.

The resolution is in the form of a formal request to the national organization to insert a clause in all future policies in which death by carbon monoxide would be classed within the suicide provisions. Investigation of several such deaths in Wisconsin proved that suicide was intended, but the courts refused to consider any intention of suicide because the provision was not inserted in the insurance policy, according to George W. Huntley, Waterloo, Ia., national president, who led the fight for the new measure.

George Resch, Sheboygan, was elected president of the Wisconsin division.

ITALY STARTS ITS CONQUEST OF ALBANIAN TRADE

Acquires Ten Year Monopoly of Aviation.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
TIRANA, Albania, April 24.—The Italian government has bought up all the shares of the Adriatic Lloyd company, hitherto owned by Germans, and also has acquired a ten year monopoly for Italian aviation in Albania. All the German airlines have been discharged and are being replaced by Italians.

The Italian government made an agreement with the German-Danish Wood company for cutting the Albanian forests and for the construction of concrete quays near Marmaras for shipping timber. This reveals the extent of the Italian economic as well as military penetration of Albania following signing of the Tirana treaty by Italy and Albania.

HAIL LABOR CODE

BY JOHN CLAYTON.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
MILAN, Italy, April 24.—Italy's new charter of labor has found a ready response from the old time socialist workers, but a more reserved reception on the part of the industrialists.

The Tribune correspondent talked with a number of workers he had known for years as exponents of the socialist idea. All praised this labor document, which, according to them, guarantees the position of labor and protects it from exploitation.

The summary of their opinions could be written thus: The old liberal state was operated solely in the interests of the bourgeoisie. It was purely class controlled in that it represented and served the interests of one class only—the producers. The Fascist government, through the labor charter, has placed itself above the classes, making both capital and labor subject to the state and subservient to the state's interests. Production henceforth will not be for the interests of one class, but for the state as a whole, in which labor and capital will participate equally.

Preference for Fascists.
Regarding article twenty-three, which provides that preference must be given to the workers who are members of the party or of the Fascist syndicates, these workers were of the opinion that the article would only have the effect of increasing the membership of the Fascist syndicates—and they already have more than 2,000,000 members.

The industrialists who are not members of the Fascist party are outspoken in their criticism of the document, branding it as a purely socialist instrument.

strument. They are particularly bitter against article nine, which provides that the state can intervene "when the political interests of the state are involved."

While the Fascists say this measure is intended only to cover the contingency of war, the others assert that it has been inserted to provide a means for ousting owners whose political action develops along the line of opposing the government. In other words, Italian industry must become Fascist entirely or run the danger of seizure by the government, they say.

The Fascist View.

Fascists, commenting on the reaction to the charter in the United States, said: "Fascism cannot develop a policy against the workers. Modern governments, especially the Italian government, had the choice either of opposing the workers, driving the country into bolshevism, or truly representing and protecting labor's interests. Fascism from the first developed a line of action which places it above capital and labor, simply to win the organs in the productive forces of the nation, which must submit entirely to the control and jurisdiction of the state. Labor is the duty of every citizen—labor for increasing the strength and power of the state."

American business men with whom THE TRIBUNE correspondent talked pointed out that there is little difference between the principles laid down by the new labor charter and those of the old line of trade unionism or syndicalism. They called the document frankly socialist in that it gives the state complete control of industry. The fact that the government recognizes private initiative in the field of production as the most efficacious method does not change the fundamentals. The right of the state to intervene "for control, encouragement or direct management" is only another formula for expressing the complete state of socialism, they said.

The social aspects of the charter are hailed by all as a distinct advance, but the Americans point out that these principles long have been in existence in the United States.

Book Two Policemen on Charges of Aiding Robbers

Formal charges were placed against two policemen yesterday who have been accused of aiding and abetting a number of robberies. William Masterson, 448 South California avenue, was charged with accessory both before and after the commission of several robberies, and a charge of conspiracy to commit a felony was made against Thomas Dunderdale, 811 South Union avenue. After being booked at the Englewood station, Masterson was released under $1,000 and Dunderdale under $2,500 bonds.

ADMIRAL IN AIR, TO DIRECT SHAM ATTACK ON U. S.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

WITH THE UNITED STATES FLEET EN ROUTE TO NEW YORK, April 24.—An officer of the rank of admiral will direct the great aerial action between New York and Narragansett Bay, R. I., from an aerial flag-ship. It was revealed today as the fleet steamed north from Cuba. It will be the first great sham war maneuver so directed.

The general areas of attack have been assigned to the fleet commander in code by the navy department, but the methods of assault are being left to Admiral Charles F. Hughes, commander in chief of the fleet.

The fleet left Cuba under sealed orders to prevent the army intelligence officers, who are working against the fleet in its maneuvers, from compromising its plans. The fleet knows that the army is using submarine location finders to detect its presence, and the fleet will open action with a wave of 300 fighting and bombing planes in simultaneous attack "somewhere on the New England coast."

Amateur radio operators may be asked to cooperate with the land defense forces by reporting "enemy" planes approaching from the sea. German and American officers will stand shoulder to shoulder on the dirigible Los Angeles during the progress of the battle.

FIRST COOLIDGE SPEECH TONIGHT SINCE CONGRESS

Washington, D. C., April 24.—President Coolidge will leave Washington for the first time in four months tomorrow to speak at a dinner of the United Press association in New York. It will be his first address since the close of congress.

He is expected to discuss pending problems of the administration.

Mr. Coolidge plans a hurried trip, leaving here in time to permit his arrival shortly before the dinner hour at 7:30 p. m., daylight saving time. He will return the same night.

CHIEF AND 20 POLICE SIT IN PULPIT TO HEAR THEIR WORK EULOGIZED

Chief of Police Michael Hughes, surrounded by twenty members of his official staff, sat upon the pulpit of the Grace Methodist Episcopal church, 870 North La Salle street, last night and listened to a eulogy of the work of the police by the Rev. C. Copeland Smith, pastor of the church. When Chief Hughes stepped to the pastor's side to bow acknowledgment to an introduction the congregation responded with prolonged applause.

"I've been looking into the annual reports of your department, chief, and am astounded by the many and manifold duties it performs for the benefit of the public," Dr. Smith said, after extolling the chief's own record of "thirty-two years' service without a blemish."

"I consider the police department to be an institution as beneficent as is the Red Cross. We are so prone to forget the part the policeman plays in assuring our safety. Last year twelve were shot to death in line of duty, and too frequently we learn of them being killed in accidents or of succumbing to ailments contracted because of exposure."

Among the others attending the service with Chief Hughes were Captains John Egan and Charles Larikin, Lieut. Charles Egan and Sergt. John Hardy.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD IN HOME.
Mrs. Ida Anders, 64 years old, was found dead in the kitchen of her home at 137 North Morgan street yesterday. Apparent death was due to heart disease.

EXPECT 200,000 FLAT DWELLERS TO MOVE MAY 1

Tendency to Reduce Rents Brings Rush.

Way back in 1911 the Chicago Real Estate board rejoiced when it adopted a resolution banning May 1 as the annual beggar of the pots and pans, together with the family furniture and bed-a-brac, from one domicile to another.

But a history of May 1 in the sixteen years that have elapsed only goes to show that you can't prohibit a man from moving by resolution. And, according to estimates, probably more people will change their address this spring than last.

J. E. Patterson, president of the Tenants' Protective association, yesterday asserted that approximately 200,000 Chicagoans will move this year. "He made a widespread tendency to reduce rents," dividing the city into three renting classes, he enumerated reasons for the reductions.

More Flats Available.
Due to recent extensive building operations, he said, and also to the existence of a considerable unemployment situation, many dwellers in the higher priced apartments are on the lookout for something cheaper. Numbers of these will locate in what he terms the secondary rental class, to be found on the northwest, far southwest, and the west side between California avenue and Austin. Rentals in this class range from $20 to $30.

Along the lake shore, from Rogers Park to Woodlawn, and out in Austin, lies what Mr. Patterson terms the "B" class apartment area. Occupants of these will pay usually from $15 up. Rent reductions and concessions of a month's rent, however, are being given as inducements.

In the poor area, located in the south side black belt, the near southwest side, and on the west to California avenue, rentals are ranging from $20 to $25, while practically nothing is being done to make the buildings habitable.

Flats in Good Repair.
T. G. Vance, counsel for the Tenants' league, believes that the situation of the renter is brighter than in former years. Landlords, he asserts, except in the poor areas, are more inclined to keep their flats and apartments in good repair.

DAUGHTER "SUBS" FOR MACDONALD, ILL WITH THROAT TROUBLE

Philadelphia, Pa., April 24.—(AP)—J. Ramsay MacDonald, former prime minister of Great Britain, who is in the Jefferson hospital with a severe sore throat, was reported much improved today by his physician, Dr. Solomon Solis-Cohen.

The distinguished patient spent a good night. He received a few Philadelphia friends during the day.

Mr. MacDonald's daughter, Isabel, who accompanied him to America, went to New York this morning to keep a speaking engagement for her father, should his condition continue to improve, as is expected by his physician. He will remain at the hospital only a few days.

Mr. MacDonald came here Friday from Washington.

U. OF C. STUDENT RESCUES 4 FROM BANDITS' ATTACK

Quick wit of a University of Chicago student on Saturday night saved him and three companions, two cops and another youth, from rough handling at the hands of two auto bandits, it became known yesterday.

The student, Milton Hayes, a resident of the Kappa Sigma fraternity house, 5715 Woodlawn avenue, had halted his car in front of the residence of Miss Ethel Brignall, 5421 Calumet avenue, when the gunmen leaped from their car and approached.

With Hayes and Miss Brignall were Miss Elizabeth Gates, 1156 East 54th street, and Fred Jones, also of 5715 Woodlawn avenue.

"Stick 'em up," commanded the robbers.

Hayes and his friends obeyed, the robbers obtaining $5 each from the boys and a $150 diamond ring from Miss Gates. But when the bandits roughly ordered the party from their car, Hayes, by a quick maneuver, threw the machine into high gear and escaped.

Hesley Is Taken Back to U. S. Prison to Finish Term

Daniel Hesley, 28 years old, former athlete at Senn High school, who was found guilty of the murder of Deputy Sheriff Walter Fisher of Mokena, Ill., and sentenced to twenty-five years in the Joliet penitentiary, was returned to Leavenworth penitentiary, where he is serving a twenty-five year term for the robbery of a mail truck in 1924. Following completion of the robbery sentence he will be taken to Joliet to serve a term for the murder.

COLLEGES MUST REFORM, SAYS GLENN FRANK

American universities stand in acute need of a renaissance of great teaching, Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, asserted yesterday. It was upon the peg of the much discussed epidemic of student suicides that he hung his argument for a revision of the material and method of higher education, in a speech to the Sunday afternoon club in the First Presbyterian church, Evanston.

"Great teaching is needed first of all," said President Frank. "A new technique—perhaps to come slowly from mental hygiene work—must be developed in the art of leading and instructing mentally, morally, and emotionally. College curricula must be shaken up and put together anew in a pattern comprehending and presenting a greater synthesis of existing knowledge."

"Research, overemphasized, needs reevaluation."

Student suicides are not unique at all, said President Frank, but are an especially disconcerting phase of a universally increasing suicide rate, representing the breakdown of the individual under the overwhelming complexity of modern civilization.

"No one thing in American universities accounts for student suicides," President Frank declared, and he denounced "the religious demagogue who parades the broken hearts of bearded ones in support of his own single-track theory."

LIST 19,483,296 U. S. CATHOLICS IN NEW CENSUS

New York, April 24.—(Special.)—There are 19,483,296 Roman Catholics in the United States, according to the Official Catholic directory for 1927, which appeared today. The directory shows an increase of 484,574 over the Catholic population in 1924. Part of this increase is accounted for, however, by the inclusion in the general summary of the Vicariate Apostolic of the Hawaiian Islands. This inclusion adds 102,000 to the general total.

Anti-Saloon League Mail Flood for Mellon.

Washington, D. C., April 24.—[Special.]—Evidence that a nation-wide Anti-Saloon league propaganda campaign is under way to force Secretary of the Treasury Mellon to make permanent the appointment of Roy A. Haynes as prohibition commissioner was disclosed today by William H. Stayton, national chairman of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

In a letter to Mr. A. HAYNES, Secretary Mellon, [P. A. Photo.] copies of which were also sent to President Coolidge and Assistant Secretary of the Treasury L. C. Andrews, Mr. Stayton quoted from a number of confidential letters written by Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the dry league, within the last three weeks to state superintendents for the organization.

These letters warn of the expected return of Secretary Mellon from a European trip and direct that he be greeted with a flood of letters and telegrams demanding that the appointment of Haynes be made permanent. A similar avalanche of demands upon President Coolidge is urged in the same letters.

Mr. Stayton's letter also includes ex-

PERSIANS FALL WHEN OFFICERS FIRE INTO CROWD

[Chicago Tribune From Service.]

TEHRAN, Persia, April 24.—Serious disorders are reported from Shiraz as a result of the arrest and banishment of a popular priest. Police seized the priest for having flogged a drunkard who was raising a disturbance in the street.

The populace is siding with the priest and all business is at standstill. A huge crowd marched by the foreign consular offices, and, being stopped by police took refuge in a shrine when the officers started firing. Several were killed or injured.

The people demand that the priest be released and that reparations be made for his arrest, but the government is said to be intent on smashing clerical influences in Persia and has sent a high military officer and his staff to maintain order in Shiraz.

END WOMAN DEAD FROM GAS. The body of Miss Mary Curran, 70 years old, 1038 Congress street, was found on the bed in her room yesterday by her landlady, Annie Ardure. A gas jet in the wall was open. Police believe her death was accidental.

"THE AMERICAN WEEKLY" IS THE MOST WIDELY READ MAGAZINE IN THE WORLD

THE COMPREHENSIVE VIEW

It is a significant fact that almost every outstanding figure in American industry has displayed to an unusual extent the capacity for looking at things largely and with perspective. In business, as in everything else, there is nothing of more importance than the comprehensive view.

Selling, in this expansive age, has become a highly organized science. And this science is best mastered by those who approach it on the grand scale. The successful manufacturer today devotes his best efforts and attention to the national markets.

To reach the greatest number of consumers, having the greatest collective buying power, with the least possible expense—that is the end and aim of national merchandising. And this triple purpose can be accomplished simply and effectively through the single medium of The American Weekly.

Consumers? The American Weekly reaches 22,000,000 of them, in 5,000,000 homes distributed from Maine to California—one-fifth the population of the entire country!

Buying power? These 22,000,000 consumers live in the trading areas of fourteen of the leading cities of America, having three-fourths of all the money in active circulation in the United States!

Expense? The advertising rates of The American Weekly are the lowest of any large-scale publication in the world: $8 per line,

$1.69 milline, $14,500 for an inside black-and-white page, $15,000 for an inside color page, and $16,000 for a back cover in color. And it is the only national publication in which you can take a full newspaper-size page in color.

There is no other publication which reaches so large a section of the American buying public. There is no other section that responds so readily to advertising.

To get above the immediate details of a sales problem, to see it broadly, clearly, with the comprehensive view—that is the first requisite of national merchandising! Write today for complete information to the nearest office (see below) of The American Weekly, A. J. Kobler, President.

The American Weekly is a complete magazine, printed in newspaper form, and distributed with the Hearst Sunday newspapers in the fourteen American cities having one-fifth of the total manufactures, three-fourths of the total bank clearings, and one-third of the urban population of the United States:

ALLEN SEEKS HIS THIRD AURORA JOCKEY CROWN

Rides Four Winners in the First Three Days.

BY FRENCH LANE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Aurora, Ill., April 24.—Jockey Charley Allen, who in two previous seasons has made the pace for race riders here, has jumped into an early lead for the honors during the spring season, which has been under way three days.
He has four winners to his credit, one more than any of the other jockey artists in the big jockey colony of more than sixty here. His nearest rivals are V. Peterson and L. McClure, two youngsters who were unused and untried at the time Allen was winning his first Aurora jockey championship last spring.

Miss Best at Aurora.

The Aurora course seems to be made to order for Allen. Always a star here, he hasn't been able to account for anything out of the ordinary at other tracks. Last summer at Washington park and Hawthorne his record was only fair. Even in Ohio he couldn't keep pace with some of his rivals. In Cuba last winter his record was good, but it did not carry him close to the jockey championship.
Little McClure, who chalked up three winners here in three days, was a sensation at the Aurora track, where he was going to become a great star. He is a bit older than the average apprentice who breaks into the game. Peterson has attracted attention by his ability to keep the heavy headed horses he has ridden going in the mud.

Allen is likely to have his hands full winning the championship this spring. Some of the best horses have not gone into action, having dodged the issue during the first three days, when the going was muddy and uncertain.

Star Jockeys Coming.

F. J. Baker is one of the riders who will give Allen a race. Jake Huespel, Bob Finnerty, L. Schaefer, and R. Peterson are others who may have something to say about the championship once they get into action. Huespel and Finnerty are awaiting licenses which, it is said, will be granted some time this week. Schaefer and Peterson will be here as confirmed jockeys for the Nevada State Farm stable. Both will do a lot of free lance riding.
A strong wind and bright sunshine found the track drying out rapidly today. Horses worked it in much faster time. Without additional rain the course will be fast by the middle of the week.

St. Louis Joint Stock Land Bank

(St. Louis, Missouri)

5% Bonds

Issued Under the Federal Farm Loan Act

Dated April 1, 1927 Optional April 1, 1937 Due April 1, 1957

Coupon bonds, fully negotiable and interchangeable. Denominations $1,000 and $500. Interest payable semi-annually April 1 and October 1. Principal and interest payable at the American Trust Company, St. Louis, or coupon may be presented for collection through any office of the underwriter.

Acceptable as Security for Postal Savings and Other Deposits of Government Funds

SECURITY—These bonds are the obligation of the St. Louis Joint Stock Land Bank, which operates under Federal charter and Government supervision, and are collateralized by either first mortgages on farms or United States Government Bonds or Certificates of Indebtedness.

LOCATION—This Bank operates in the States of Arkansas and Missouri, and it is the policy of the Bank to restrict its loans to the richest agricultural sections of these two States. Practically all loans in Missouri are being made in the territory lying north of a line drawn from Kansas City to the southeastern corner of the State, and in Arkansas in the rich delta lands of the northeastern and southeastern parts of the State. The average amount loaned per acre to date is $32.55, which is 41% of the appraised valuation of the property.

MANAGEMENT—The St. Louis Joint Stock Land Bank was established in 1922 and is now 7th in point of size of the fifty-five Joint Stock Land Banks operating under the Federal Farm Loan System. There has been no change in the management since its organization. Its officers have had broad and successful experience in the Farm Mortgage loan field. Its Board of Directors is composed of successful business men who own a substantial portion of its capital stock. It is on an annual dividend basis payable quarterly.

Price 104 and Interest, Yielding 4.50% to the Redeemable Date (1937) and 5% Thereafter
